ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Hi, I'm Cheri Schultz and in the summer of 2018 I was diagnosed with Rheumatoid Arthritis. When I heard the diagnosis, it initially took my breath away. I was very aware of this auto-immune disorder, the disease's progression and how it affects every joint in your body. My knowledge base came from working in the Medical field as a Respiratory Therapist for over 10 years.

I have always been a very active person and knew I needed to keep my joints moving to prevent them from crystalizing. When your joints crystalize you can lose all mobility. My first rheumatologist was very medication driven and wanted to write me a prescription immediately. I tried to ask her if there was any alternative to taking drugs and she just shrugged her shoulders and handed me the prescription.

I dove deep with my investigative skills, researching and asking everyone I knew if there was an alternative or a physician who believed in holistic methods for healing the body. The universe was on my side and I found the right physician. He believes food can heal your body and alleviate the pain. He was right! My pain has decreased by 80% in 2 1/2 years! The cookbook I have created illustrates the foods I eat every week to improve my health and overall well-being. My goal is to help you resonate with this healing approach to improve you mind, body and soul! Namaste'

INTRODUCTION

I understand staying “healthy” is completely subjective and is different for everyone. When putting together this cookbook, I have tried to keep the ingredients healthy and I will occasionally add ingredients that are not allowed. However, being on this lifestyle for over 2 1/2 years, has enabled me to know where my sensitivity level is for specific foods. For example, if I do eat a specific food where oats are included, I will only allow myself one cookie per day or perhaps only one bite. As your body is cleansed of sugar, carbohydrates, processed food and dairy, you will understand how your body will react, when to pull back or if that food needs to be eliminated from your diet.

The recipes in this book are the exact ones I use to cook my meals. I have tried to be creative so the food is flavorful, appealing and appetizing. This lifestyle change has made a huge impact on my energy level and overall well-being! Thank you for purchasing this book and making this dream a reality! None of this would be possible without all of you. I hope you enjoy all these recipes and my toast to you: “Is For Good Health, A Good Life and May Love and Laughter Brighten Your Days and Warm Your Home”

VITAMINS

These are the vitamins I take on a daily basis. At this moment I do not take any medication for my Rheumatoid Arthritis, however, I do take a variety of vitamins to help control the pain and boost my immune system. I also lift weights and do yoga every day.

I understand this may not be feasible for everyone but I choose to regulate the pain (based on the advice of my Rheumatologist) by using this holistic approach of vitamins, exercising daily and eating specific foods. It's all about controlling the pain. Food is Medicine. My goal is to stay clear of medication until the pain becomes intolerable. I may have Rheumatoid Arthritis but Rheumatoid Arthritis does not have ME!

Vitamin C - 500 mg
Calcium - 500 mg
Tumeric with Curcumin - 500 mg
Magnesium Citrate - 250 mg
Krill Oil - 500 mg
Vitamin D3 - 50 mg (2000 IU)
Vitamin B12 - 1000 mg
Glucosamine Chondroitin - 750 mg

All these vitamins and supplements were recommended by my Rheumatologist.

MY DIET / LIFESTYLE

All these recipes mirror what I eat on a daily basis. I do NOT eat Dairy, Sugar, Carbohydrates, Night Shade Vegetables or Processed Food. So, I am sure you are asking yourself - what does she eat?

I eat fresh fruit, vegetables and protein (fish, chicken, grass fed beef, shrimp and turkey).

My Rheumatologist suggested I only eat 4 pieces of fruit a day, due to the natural sugars and recommended berries of any kind. If I need a crunchy snack, I eat nuts that grow on trees: Pistachios, Almonds, Cashews and occasionally I will eat Walnuts.

For my drinking pleasure; Water, unsweetened tea and coffee with a 1/2 teaspoon of dairy creamer. I cannot drink my coffee black.

Please keep in mind, this lifestyle change was given to me by my Rheumatologist to control the pain. I know it may not be suitable for everyone but it has decreased my pain by 80%. There is no cure for RA but I am trying to control the pain, by eating healthy, exercising and taking vitamins on a regular basis.

EXERCISE PLAN

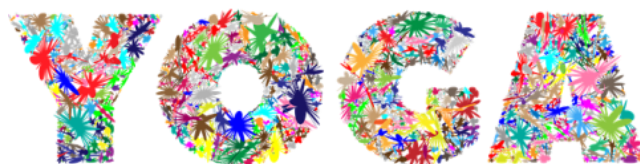

YES, I do yoga every day and I have been a yoga instructor for over 16 years. The very first time I went to my Rheumatologist, who recommended this holistic approach to controlling the pain, informed me there were two exercises I should consider doing today and for the rest of my life. Guess what they were? Yoga and Weight Lifting! I started to chuckle when he said yoga. I informed him, I was a yoga instructor and have been practicing yoga for over 15 years. The universe and God always know the end before the beginning. I believe NOTHING is a coincidence!

By doing yoga, you keep your muscles flexible, stretched and your joints are moving which prevents them from crystalizing, causing the pain. The weight lifting is always lubricating the joints by lifting and releasing.

THANK YOU

Thank You! It's easy to say two words, but a real thank you is so much more than two words. Thank You has a power that can bind people together, join lasting relationships and increase the mental well-being of both parties.

This cookbook would not be possible without ALL of you encouraging me to bring it to fruition. I never realized my RA could impact the collective the way it has. I hope this cookbook will inspire you to try some healthy alternatives enabling you to improve your overall health. Imagine how energized and alive your body will feel. This can be a gift of love, not only for yourself but also for your family!
